A well-rounded, hands-on exploration!

In her fun and informative teaching style, internationally recognized Denver artist, Regan Rosburg, approaches this fundamental topic from artistic, social, historic, and scientific angles.

- Discover how the eye perceives color and wavelengths of light.
- Learn about nature's coloring system & color mimicry.
- Experience finding your own color language as an artist.
- A hands-on course using eco-friendly, non-toxic materials!

Regan lives and teaches in Denver, and exhibits around the country and as far away as Bali. She mainly works in resin, creating elaborate 3D paintings. Her work requires tremendous research, calculated planning and a sense of humor when things go wrong. Color theory is a fundamental aspect of her work. Regan's work can be seen at the Smokebrush Gallery and at www.reganrosburg.com.

A vital tool for artists at any career stage!
